

Rockabye

Rockabye

Pull me out of the river
And into the boat
I've been taking on water
And I can't stay afloat
Hold me a while
'Til the shivering stops
Rockabye baby
In the treetops

The birds seem to fly
Through the cracks in the sky
Once I was young
And I knew how to fly
The older I get
The less that I know
Yet something inside still calls me
When it's time to go

When the wind blows
And the bough breaks
Down will come baby
And finally you know
Just how much you can take

I can think like a genius
I can sink like a stone
I can walk among angels
And still feel alone
I'm hungry and tired
I'm out on a limb
And I need something sweet
To pull me back in

When the wind blows

And the bough breaks
Down will come baby
And finally you know
Just how much you can take

I can think like a genius
I can sink like a stone
I can walk among angels
And still feel alone
I'm hungry and tired
I'm out on a limb
And I need something sweet
To pull me back in

Rockabye baby
Pull me back in

Rockabye baby
Pull me back in

Rockabye baby
Bring me in

Copyright 2013 by Janie Christensen